

'A Rush Of Hope' Cinematic Greg Laurie Faith Event Coming In August

Greg Laurie, founder and lead pastor of Harvest Churches and Harvest Crusades, has announced the release of "A Rush of Hope," a one-of-a-kind cinematic crusade coming in September of 2020.

Created in partnership with Erwin Brothers Films, "A Rush of Hope" will include encouraging messages from Greg Laurie, outtakes from faith-based films such as "I Still Believe" and "Woodlawn" and performances by artists such as Jeremy Camp, for KING & COUNTRY and MercyMe.

"Our life is like a movie," says Laurie. "It has a beginning, middle and end. We all have questions about this movie that we are in. Is this movie a tragedy? Is it a love story? Or is it a comedy even? Do we win in the end? Why am I here? What is the meaning of my life? And what happens after I die? There are answers to these questions," Laurie says.

"A Rush of Hope" is Harvest's creative response to the Covid-19 pandemic, which forced the ministry to cancel its in-person crusades scheduled this year at Anaheim's Angel Stadium.

"We've never done anything like this before," Laurie said. "The Covid-19 pandemic has completely changed all our plans, but it has opened an incredible window of opportunity for the gospel. Now, more than ever, people are hungry for something the world cannot give them. This cinematic crusade is designed to reach as many people as possible and help them answer the deepest questions of their hearts."

Greg Laurie is an American author and evangelist who serves as the senior pastor of Harvest Christian Fellowship in Riverside, California,
